CONNECTING TO TV, DVD, OR GAME CONSOLE

OPTION (1) CONNECT DIRECTLY TO TV

This is an easy connection if you already have your TV hooked up to a DVD or game console or are using an HDMI cable.

Step 1: Connect the ends of RCA cord (10) into AUDIO OUTPUT of television.

Step 2: Connect the other ends of the RCA cord (10) into AUDIO IN of Rock Show™.

Step 3: Turn Rock Show™ on by turning VOLUME knob clockwise.

Step 4: Turn on Game Console/DVD and TV and turn up the volume.

\ If your TV does not have an AUDIO OUT, please use one of the following Connection Options.*

OPTION (2) CONNECT DIRECTLY TO DVD PLAYER

This is an easy connection if your television does not have an AUDIO OUT or if you want to use multiple units together.

Step 1: Connect the one end of the Red/White/Yellow RCA cord (9) into your DVD player,

Step 2: Plug the yellow RCA Cord (9) from DVD player into video input of TV.

Step 3: Plug remaining Red/White RCA cord from DVD player into AUDIO IN of Rock Show™.

*Note: If you would like to extend Rock Show™ farther away from your TV, please use the included RCA Audio Coupler (11). You will connect the red and white ends of the two provided RCA cords through the coupler without changing any other connections described in Connection Options 1, 2, or 3.*

CONNECTING TO VIDEO GAME CONSOLE

OPTION (3) CONNECT DIRECTLY TO GAME CONSOLE

This is an easy connection if your television does not have an AUDIO OUT or if you want to use multiple units together.

Step 1: Using the special RCA cord that comes with your video game console, plug yellow RCA cord from game console into video input of TV.

Step 2: Plug Red/White RCA cord from game console into AUDIO IN of Rock Show™.

OPTION (4) CONNECT DIRECTLY TO GAME CONSOLE

This connection allows you to use Rock Show™ as a bridge so that sound will still come out of your TV AND Rock Show™.

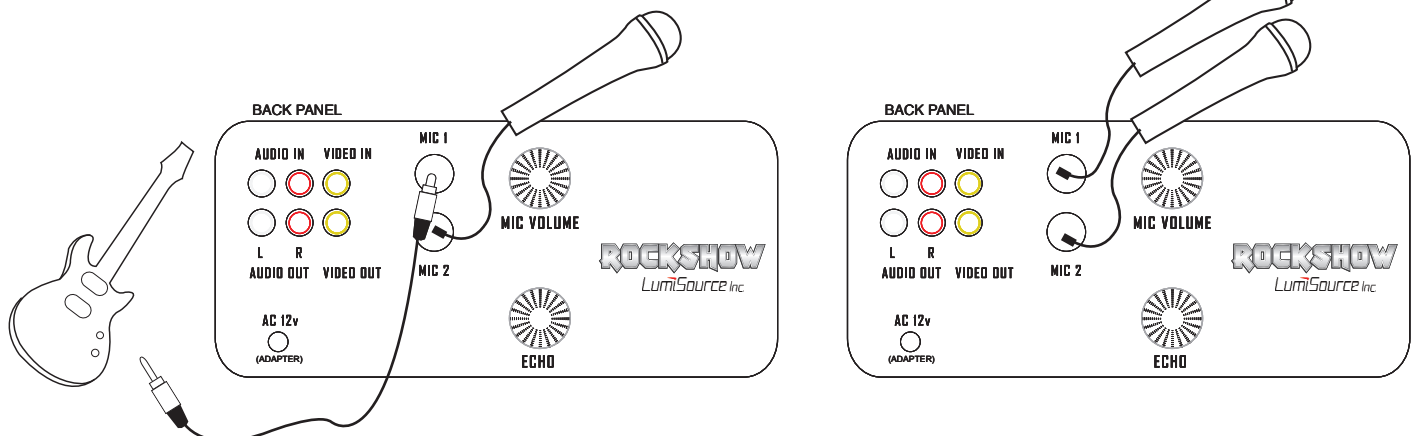

Step 1: Using the special RCA cord that comes with your video game console, plug RCA cords into Rock Show™ AUDIO IN.

Step 2: Plug Rock Show™ RCA cord into AUDIO OUT of Rock Show™ and connect opposite ends into TV input jacks.

CONNECTING TO REAL INSTRUMENTS

Step 1: Use a 1/4" instrument cord (not included) to link Guitar, Keyboard, or other instrument's AUDIO OUT with one of the Rock Show™ MIC jacks. You can plug 1 or 2 microphone into either MIC jack as well to sing along.

USING MULTIPLE UNITS TOGETHER (DAISY CHAINING)

It's even more fun to link multiple units together for an ULTIMATE ROCK SHOW! Here's how you can link up to 4 pairs:

Step 1: Connect RCA cord from audio source to AUDIO IN on Rock Show™ using one of the previous methods.

Step 2: Connect the two main units using additional RCA cord from the AUDIO OUT of First Rock Show to the AUDIO IN of second Rock Show™.

TROUBLESHOOTING ROCK SHOW™

Q: Why isn't there sound coming from any of my speakers?

A: Ensure Rock Show™ is connected as described in the Setup Guide. Check that the power to the unit is on and the volume is turned up. Also, make sure your audio device is not set to "MUTE" and volume is turned up.

Q: Why isn't there sound coming from one of my speakers?

A: Make sure that both the left and right channel audio inputs are securely connected to Rock Show™ and the audio device. Also, make sure the Unit Connectors are securely connected to link the two speakers.

Q: What if I want to move my speakers farther away from the television?

A: This is why we provide the RCA audio coupler. You will connect the red and white ends of the two provided RCA cords through the coupler without changing any other connections described in Connection Options 1, 2, or 3.

Q: Why doesn't my microphone control the singer in Rock Band®?

A: Gaming microphones with USB connections must be connected directly to their respective game consoles. The RockShow™ mic. will still work with Rock Band®, but is not programmed to directly control elements of the game. Therefore, you should just connect your USB mic. to your game console as usual and then connect Rock Show™ using one of the methods in this manual.
